John P. Bucki, S.J.

John P. Bucki, S.J., is the Rector of the Jesuit community and Director of Campus Ministry at Le Moyne College.

Prior to his arrival at Le Moyne in 2012, Father Bucki served as the Director of Campus Ministry at Canisius College in Buffalo, N.Y., for 11 years. In that role, Father Bucki oversaw Masses, retreats, service and justice-related programs at Canisius. He also helped to expand the Office of Campus Ministry.

Earlier in his vocation, Father Bucki served as an associate pastor at St. Francis Xavier Church in New York City, directing parish outreach and food programs. Father Bucki has also lived and worked in Africa and the Philippines.

A Buffalo native, Father Bucki has been a Jesuit since 1968 and a priest since 1979. He earned a bachelor’s degree in mathematics and philosophy from Fordham University in New York City and a Master of Divinity from the Jesuit School of Theology in Berkeley, Calif.

Charles L. Currie, S.J.

Charles L. Currie, S.J., is the Executive Director of Jesuit Digital Network, a new initiative networking Jesuit institutions of higher education worldwide in response to the needs of marginalized populations served by the Society of Jesus. A native of Philadelphia, Pa., Father Currie previously served as President of the Association of Jesuit Colleges and Universities for 14 years. Earlier in his career, he worked on the chemistry faculty at Georgetown University, as president of both Wheeling College (now Wheeling Jesuit University), and Xavier University, before returning to Georgetown to direct the university’s bicentennial celebration, and then serving as rector of the Jesuit community at St. Joseph’s University.

Active throughout his career in various professional, educational, and civic organizations at the local, regional and national levels, Father Currie also gives his time to the boards of numerous colleges, high schools, and other organizations and associations. More recently, he has served on the board (and executive committee) of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, and chaired its secretariat, the board of the Vatican Observatory Foundation, and the Washington Office on Latin America, which he chaired. He has been a member of the Washington Higher Education Secretariat, and has chaired the Executives in Church-Related Higher Education. Currently he serves on the boards of Rosemont College, the Iraqi Student Project, and the Ignatian Volunteer Corps. His work as president of the AJCU took him to five continents in one year.

Father Currie has also had extensive international experience. In November 1989, he traveled to Vietnam to arrange cooperative programs between Georgetown and Vietnamese universities. After the assassination of the Jesuit priests in El Salvador later in 1989, Father Currie was named special assistant to the President of Georgetown to coordinate the university’s response to this tragedy.

Father Currie has studied at Fordham University, Boston College, Weston College and Woodstock College, gaining graduate degrees in philosophy and theology, and at the Catholic University of America, obtaining a doctorate in physical chemistry. He has also completed postdoctoral research at Cambridge University, the Canadian National Research Council and the National Bureau of Standards in Washington.
Christopher B. Curtis ’79

Throughout his dynamic three-decade-plus career, Christopher B. Curtis ’79 has earned a reputation as one of the top executive leaders in the global-industry sector. Currently the Chairman of Munters AB, a Swedish-based global leader in air treatment solutions, Curtis is also a non-executive director on the boards of a trio of U.S.-based industrials: S&C Electric Company, Kimball Electronics and Aegion. In addition, he is the current Chairman of IDEA, the technology service provider and eBusiness standards body of the electrical industry – an organization he helmed as interim CEO in 2014.

Curtis is perhaps most well-known for his work at the $30 billion French multinational Schneider Electric, which he continues to serve as a Senior Corporate Advisor. From 2008 through 2013, Curtis was the President and Chief Executive Officer of Schneider Electric North America. Under his leadership, Schneider Electric North American sales topped $7 billion, with industry-leading market share, profitability and cash-flow generation. He placed a particular emphasis on services activities and directed the North American region to develop the leading platform in the industry.

Curtis’ experience with Schneider Electric spanned two decades as he oversaw all operations in the United States, Canada and Mexico. He was a member of the Corporate Executive Committee and, from 2008 to 2012, he also led Schneider Electric’s Buildings Business. As a leading authority on “Intelligent Energy” and sustainability, Curtis directed Schneider Electric’s Buildings Business ($2 billion) globally.

He has extensive strategic and operating experience in general management, business strategy, M&A, industry/government affairs, investor relations, sales/marketing, services and operations. Prior to his role leading North America, Curtis was President, Schneider Electric USA, President of Schneider Electric Canada, Senior Vice President of Sales and Services, and Vice President of Marketing for North American Operating Division.

Curtis earned a bachelor’s degree in history from Le Moyne. He has also studied at both the Harvard Business School and Guanghau School of Management in Beijing. He was an Executive Advisor for the Farmer School of Business at Miami University of Ohio and a past Chairman of the National Electrical Manufacturers Association.

Noreen (Reale) Falcone ’58

Noreen (Reale) Falcone ’58 has dedicated herself to numerous charitable and community organizations, including the Junior League, the Community Foundation of Central New York, Francis House, the Everson Museum of Art and the Sovereign Military Order of Malta. Education, the arts, health care and Catholic mission are among the issues that are most important to her. As President of the board of the Manlius Pebble Hill School, she was instrumental in stabilizing the resources necessary to bring the school to a high level academically and in building an endowment program. This was especially rewarding for her. Along with her family, she endowed the library at Le Moyne and a gallery at the Everson Museum of Art, as well as a building for the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Falcone works extensively with the Franciscan Order in Syracuse, being involved with Francis House from the organization’s founding and also with its ministry on the North Side of the city. She also serves on the Foundation Board of the Diocese of Syracuse.

In addition, Falcone served as the first female President of the Knights of Malta, the fourth-oldest order in the Catholic Church. She became active in the order in the early 1990s, and served as Hospitaller and Chancellor of the association before becoming President.

Falcone has also worked as an elementary school teacher in the North Syracuse Central School District.

In addition to her community work, Falcone has given back to her alma mater as President of the College’s Alumni Association, and as a member of the Board of Regents and Board of Trustees. She was the recipient of Le Moyne’s Distinguished Alumna Award in 1993, and received an honorary degree in 1995.

Falcone is the mother of four children and the grandmother of 12; all continue to be the center of her life.

She earned a bachelor’s degree in history from Le Moyne and did graduate work at Oswego State Teachers College and Syracuse University.

Spouse: Michael
Dena “Katy” C. Feeney ’60

Dena “Katy” C. Feeney ’60 was the Founder and Principal of her own law firm. She is now in a solo practice where her areas of concentration include estate planning and estate administration. She is currently a Fellow of the American College of Estate and Trust Counsel. In addition, she has taught as a Distinguished Lecturer for 15 years at the Columbus School of Law at Catholic University of America (CUA), and is also a frequent lecturer on various estate-related subjects for bar associations and other groups.

For nearly 30 years, Feeney has served her community as a member of various boards at Providence Hospital, including as President of the Center for Life and President of the Providence Health Foundation. Feeney has given back to her alma maters as a member of the Le Moyne College Alumni Association Board of Governors, and as a member of the Catholic University of America Alumni Association Board of Governors, including as President of the board, and as a member of the Board of Visitors of the Columbus School of Law of the Catholic University of America.

In 2010, she was the recipient of Le Moyne’s Distinguished Alumna Award. In 2012 she was named one of “Three Wise Women” by the National Organization of Italian Women (Washington, D.C.) and has received a bar leader’s award from the Montgomery County Maryland Bar Association.

She earned a juris doctor degree from CUA, a master’s degree from George Washington University, and a bachelor’s degree in mathematics from Le Moyne.

Peter Folan, S.J.

Peter Folan, S.J., is a Doctoral Student in the Graduate School of the Morrissey College of Arts and Sciences at Boston College. He was previously Associate Pastor of Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Washington, D.C. He attended the University of Notre Dame and earned a bachelor’s degree in the Program of Liberal Studies and German in 2000.

Following graduation from Notre Dame, Father Folan served for one year as a research associate in education and public policy with the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops in Washington, D.C. In 2001, he joined the faculty at Bishop McNamara High School in Forestville, Md.

In 2003 Father Folan entered the Society of Jesus and professed his vows in 2005. In 2005, he was missioned to Fordham University, where he earned a master’s degree in philosophy in 2008. He then went on to teach philosophy at the University of Scranton for two years before being missioned to the Boston College School of Theology and Ministry in 2010, where he earned a Master of Divinity degree as well as a Licentiate in Sacred Theology in 2013.

During his years of formation, Father Folan spent a summer in India, helped run the “Six Weeks a Jesuit” program for men considering a vocation and served as a liaison to Jesuit Volunteer Corps communities in New York City and Boston. He currently serves on the Board of Trustees of Xavier High School in New York City.

Linda M. LeMura

Linda M. LeMura, Ph.D., is the 14th president of Le Moyne College. She is just the second layperson to lead the institution on a permanent basis. She recently led the creation of the College’s new strategic plan, Sempre Avanti, which starts by reinforcing Le Moyne’s Ignatian roots as it sets the foundation for the next five years.

Prior to being named president, LeMura served for seven years as the College’s provost and vice president for academic affairs. In that capacity, she played a pivotal role in the revision of the College’s Core curriculum, the establishment of the Madden School of Business, and the renovation and expansion of Le Moyne’s science facilities.

LeMura came to Le Moyne after spending 15 years at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania. During her time at Bloomsburg, she held numerous roles, including professor, graduate program director, and department chairperson. She also served as a consultant to the Italian Olympic Committee and the U.S. Olympic biathlon team.

LeMura’s fields of research and expertise include pediatric obesity, pediatric applied physiology, lipid metabolism and energy metabolism. She has taught courses in applied physiology, anatomy and physiology, bioethics and the biology of aging. She is the co-author of the book Clinical Exercise Physiology: Application and Physiological Principles, along with Serge von Duvillard, and has authored more than 60 peer-reviewed articles and funded research proposals.

A Syracuse native and graduate of Bishop Grimes High School, LeMura is an active member of the community. She has served on the boards of the Syracuse Symphony, the Everson Museum of Art and the Syracuse International Film Festival. She has also given her time and expertise as a member of education committees of the Diocese of Syracuse and served on transition team for U.S. Congressman Dan Maffei and Syracuse Mayor Stephanie Miner. She currently serves on the Board of Trustees of the College of the Holy Cross and the Council of Independent Colleges and Universities.

A summa cum laude graduate, LeMura earned a bachelor’s degree in biology and education from Niagara University, and a master’s degree and a doctorate, both in applied physiology, from Syracuse University.
